Sharing Wisdom

Hi Ladies,

For February 2021, Women's Forum will honor Black History Month with an exploration of the lives and work of two extraordinary artists.

We'll start with Nobel Laureate Toni Morrison, a woman of deep conviction to the telling of the African American story through her many celebrated novels, a play and an opera. And we encounter in Toni a person of eminent charm, femininity, a terrific sense of humor and an endless well of wisdom.

Then a visit to the Jazz Age with its undeniable "Queen", Josephine Baker. We've all seen images of the ebony beauty in her "Banana Skirt" costume and heard how she took Paris by storm. Her growth as an artist and the talent and charisma she displayed were mesmerizing, eclipsed only by the real life history behind the glamour.

Documentaries will be our guides for both stories and for Josephine Baker an HBO movie is also available.
