The Great Designers

Dear Ladies,

With Mother's Day approaching, a flight of fancy seemed "in good taste"...

I dug into the past and found a memento of a time when we were humming tunes from Phantom of the Opera, getting our hair permed, bejeweling everything and loving the shoulder pads that made our hips and waist look - oh so much slimmer!

One of our favorite topics, Fashion, is on the menu for our May 12th luncheon. The 1987 documentary THE GREAT DESIGNERS takes us to the Paris couture and right into the heart of the More is More era. The exquisitely adorned creations, lady-like to the "nth-degree", accessorized with gloves and hats and beautiful jewelry are like a visit to fantasy land. Even the style with which the models presented - their posture, their gait, the facial expression, the hand gesture - all reflective of the elegance of the garments.

It will be fun looking back together!

For Afternoon Tea on Thursday May 26th, we'll view a documentary on the life of American literary icon and Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather. Known for her touching stories of the immigrant experience on the Great Plains; Ms. Cather's own life story is as captivating as her beautifully written and distinctive novels.

Mother's Day!
