

WOMEN'S FORUM

Sharing Wisdom

Dear Ladies,

Happy Spring '24!

One of the reasons I so love living in a temperate climate is the display/show Mother Nature puts on for us every few months - especially in going from Winter to Spring. There's an energy in the air, the longer days, the warmer temps, the bursts of color everywhere. From our gardens to our cuisine to our wardrobes, Spring sings of rebirth, renewal, rediscovery!

As a welcome to this invigorating season, in April WF honors two facets of human endeavor and creativity that enrich and beautify our lives. We start with writers, those gifted people who fill the pages of books and our imaginations with their stories and poems ~ and then ~ the visual artist in the person of a master photographer whose dramatic images defined “the look, the face” of glamor throughout most of our lives.

Women of Letters

A few months ago, I sent out a call to the writers among us. I am happy to tell you that for our event on April 11, we will be seating a panel of three writers each of which will share the story of her journey to become a crafter of the written word, will read to us a selection of her work, and then join us in a discussion and Q&A. Writers Ann Huber, Donna Baier Stein, and Luisa LoCasio Matarazzo will grace Women's Forum as they form our panel and afterward will be available with books for purchase and signing.

Writers Luncheon, Thursday, April 11 at noon. Dillon Library. Admission 20.

At our second event this April we look back at the career of master photographer Richard Avedon. Known primarily for a body of fashion photography that can only be described as iconic with photos of such refined artistry that they remain timeless; Avedon was also a portraitist whose sensitivity revealed – in the faces of the mighty and the meek – the heights and depths of humanity.

Avedon Luncheon, Thursday April 25 at noon. Dillon
